

Never Look Back

Through the years, thought you will be there for me
All my tears will not bring what used to be
Every day, pain does not go away
Taken all my time, now life's a long climb Memories, why have them when they are sad for me
We adjust, but lives will not work without trust Now is all dust, ending this is a must The pain is just too much. I have lost all touch.

Wished it was just like before
I don't have feelings no more
There are days I won't get up
Just to hope the past will come back but that is a one-way track you paint all my daytime black
Would it be great if you take all your lies back?

I wrote so many sad songs about how you treat me so wrong
You can't cross that line you know
but now is time to just let you go

Nothing is the same again
Is not a game of pretend?
Laugh at me all you want but I will stand tall Never will fall

All your lies, looking right into my eyes Took my heart, and you just torn it all apart
Every day, pain does not go away
After all this time, so sad it's a crime

Wished it was just like before
I don't have feelings no more
There are days I won't get up
Just to hope the past will come back
but that is a one-way track
you paint all my daytime black
Would it be great if you take all your lies back?
Never look back

I wrote so many sad songs
about how you treat me so wrong
You can't cross that line you know
but now is time to just let you go
How can you hurt me so slow?
Ten Months of panic attacks
Would it be great if you take all your lies back?

Wished it was just like before

I don't have feelings no more

There are days I won't get up

Just to hope the past will come back

but that is a one-way track

Would it be great if you take all your lies back?

Never look back
