

I Can Dream 我可以做夢

Intro Verse

In my dreams, all I see, is my past.

What I did to make me who I am

in a world that is just so different from what

I can see today.

Verse #1

Look around can you see what is wrong?

No one gets along.

Selfish and greed

Always that need.

Everything has to be done with speed.

No one's free

Spending time

must be a breeze.

Alone with such ease.

Close my eyes.

Chorus

so, I can dream about the time when I was young.

A moment in time

When you feel life just begun.

Heroes were unsung.

Mistakes can be undone.

Hard work was fun.

The time you lost yet you still won.

Don't need to be the one.

So, I can dream about the time when I was young.

Today, I am told,

to hold my tongue

and see where pendulum has swung.

Everyone is unstrung.

Stories to debunk.

Minds are on the run,

with optics and facts being spun

You are one and done.

Pressure of life's a ton

2nd Verse

In my dreams all I see is my past.

working hard but having fun.

with family and friends

being together,

memories of laughter.

but today,

Truth be told,

Everyone just so damn cold.

Alone is easy.

Want to close my eyes,

Chorus

so, I can dream about the time when I was young.

A moment in time

When you feel life just begun

Heroes were unsung.

Mistakes can be undone.

Hard work was just fun.

The time you lost yet you still won.

Never on the run

Don't need to be the one.

Piano/Bridge

Every day I look up there's the sun.

Path was setup for us to run.

To try, not hide, and be on

each other's side

Nothing is implied.

In today's World we are tied,

to problems that divide

with answers that's set aside

Decisions made by pride.

I just want to close my eyes.

Chorus

so, I can dream about the time when I was young.

A moment in time

When you feel life just begun

Heroes were unsung.

Mistakes can be undone.

Hard work was fun.

The time you lost yet you still won.

Don't need to be the one.

So, I can dream about the time when I was young.

Today, I am told,

to hold my tongue

and see where pendulum has swung.

Everyone is unstrung.

Stories to debunk.

Minds are on the run,

with optics and facts being spun

You are one and done.

Pressure of life's a ton

Conclusion

Dream that I was young.

Dream that I was young.
