

“The Score”

Your heart tremors as you close your door.

to a place that no one wants to know.

From a Friday into Monday is all a craze

Let close ones help clear up that maze.

I'll take you where you want to go.

There are so many things we can't control.

Life in this world is about how much care we show.

That's the only way we can all grow.

Chorus

What really are we fighting for? is it to have more?

To be the keys to unlock doors ... or to "walk the floor".

To do the things that you adore...To feel just like before.

In the end, is anyone keeping score?

Your heart tremors as you close your door.

to a place that no one wants to go.

Life in this world is about how much care we show.

That's the only way we can all grow.

Chorus

What really are we fighting for? Are we even sure?

To be the keys to unlock doors ... or to "walk the floor".

To do the things that you adore...To feel just like before.

In the end, is anyone keeping score?

Bridge

Every single day life gives us melody.

Life is that song and we are the remedy.

Sooner or later, we will see the clarity.

Chorus

What really are we fighting for? Are we even sure?

To be the keys to unlock doors...or to "walk the floor".

To do the things that you adore...To be just like before.

In the end, is anyone keeping score?

In the end is anyone keeping score?
