

“When You’re Around”

Try to figure what Life's about what I can live without it all comes back to the ground because there will be no world if you are not around There's a reason why this was done from above

Talk to me when I was so down
By my side. Be around,
Like I am talk of the town

so, I get this great comfort when you are around Found the light in me. My feet back on the ground

I will smile when you wake up
You compare to no one
What matters is what you are about

You don't need your makeup
You don't need to dress up
What you are, is the light that's needed in us
Thankful for this great feeling when you are around

Try to figure what Life's about what we can live without
it all comes back to the ground because there will be no world if we don't have love
There's a reason why this was made from above

I will smile when you wake up
You compare to no one
What matters is what you are about

You don't need your makeup
You don't need to dress up
What matters is what you are always about
So, I get this great feeling when you are around

What you are, is the light that's needed in us
Thankful for this great feeling when you are around

Every day, I always think about you Without your voice I'll be nowhere at all Just sharing your thoughts and how you feel
Is more than enough for me to heal

I will smile when you wake up
You compare to no one
What matters is what you are about

You don't need your makeup

You don't need to dress up

What matters is what you are always about

Thankful for this great feeling when you are around

Everyday

So grateful for this great feeling when you are around
