

Believe

Sharing what's in your heart and how you feel Always thought that's what love should always be

You betrayed me, and I was so naïve
Now that love will never be what I Believe

But your greed is the reason why you won't leave Woman like you is why God should never made Eve

You can lie, and cheat then smile right at me
Why do you tell lies that you were never free?

Easy for me now to see
when you look at me
find someone else who Believe

Now's not what used to be
My heart's not at ease
But I rather be lonely

I don't lie about how I really feel know now that your love for me was never real

Did you think of me and your family?
You never did, how can you go to sleep?

Easy for me now to see
when you look at me
find someone else who Believe

No matter how much I plea Alone as could be
Need to Find someone I can Believe

Now's not what used to be
My heart's not at ease
Our lives should have grown like a seed

Saw this world with only us three
Now is just our son and me
Find someone else to Believe
