

SCARS

(Prelude) Surround myself with who I know.

Yet every day I feel alone.

That search is so hard.

The answers seem so far. A pain that leaves a scar

I know that time just passes by

Does not care if you smile or cry.

Every day I get up to try Always asking why.

To Be with me how can, you be sure.

I just want your feelings to be pure.

Think is just who we are.

Could I be your star?

(Bridge) Be that sunlight with no clouds around to shine.

is what I need for you to be around?

(Chorus) Sometimes I cried myself to sleep.

Thinking of problems that's too deep

I got these scars.

That is why my heart is so damn far.

One day you will just say goodbye.

I will not cry and will not ask why.

Because of these scars

Broken and Torn Apart. I am left with these dark scars.
