

Prophecy 預言

Intro Rap Verse

Feel the air is leaving me, took my last breath slowly.

Looking all around me, eyes are empty.

Signs around, all the hate you show me.

Telling me, that I have so much, is confusing*.

I used to talk and laugh so freely.

All you guys just show me,

Peace of mind is so far from your reach.

Materials things to fool your mind,

to show off just to get your heartbeat.

Rap Verse #1

As dark clouds form over me, hard winds whipping by.

From the streets, voices echoing, hate about to take flight.

No one cares so we kept taking until one day all will decay.

Is it strange? that silence will destroy our way.

What's most important is your attire,

and your desire to show the mass that you,

have everything in this life.

Ice forming on your skin.

Is never sinking in.

Still this love I told you.

Chorus

As I play this Prophecy for you.

Requiem for a Dream I knew.

All are older, all grown colder.

All notes fall out of tune.

Fingers lay rest on these strings/keys.

Mutilating all melodies.

Laid to rest will be my memory.

As I play this Prophecy for you.

Requiem for a Dream I knew.

All that's rotten, never forgotten.

Gone are the clear blue sky.

Do we have a heart that beats?

Should we all think of other's dreams.

This will be our World's fatality.

2nd Verse

Broken dreams are all around, falling just like dead leaves.

Broken just like me, empathy has left me.

So much greed, a field that is crowded.

Sound advice is now a task that is taunting.

Do we know what's a true glass ceiling.

Complaints that sound like laughing

Most words today are now insulting.

Don't want to have any regret, hope these words (are) not late.

Are we worth the save?

Chorus

As I play this Prophecy for you.

Requiem for a Dream I knew.

All are older, all grown colder.

All notes fall out of tune.

Fingers lay rest on these strings/keys.

Mutilating all melodies.

Laid to rest will be my memory.

As I play this Prophecy for you.

Requiem for a Dream I knew.

All that's rotten, never forgotten.

Gone are the clear blue sky.

Do we have a heart that beats?

Should we all think of other's dreams.

This will be our World's fatality.

Conclusion

Feel the air is leaving me, took my last breath slowly.

Looking all around me, eyes are empty.

Signs around, all the hate you show me.

Telling me, that I have so much, is confusing.

I used to talk and laugh so freely.

All you guys just show me,

Peace of mind is so far from your reach.

Materials things to fool your mind,

to show off just to get your heartbeat.