

One to Ten

Turn your lights off and listen to this song.

What your mom text is what words will be coming next.

You have a lot of homework in an all new world.

Questioning all the work that you do.

Everyday your mom's eyes are on you

Take a deep breath because she's always there too

Dad cares what you do. Wearing brand new shoes

So just flash your beautiful smile

So, before you go to sleep

Please, you don't need to think too deep

We're all here, so you don't need to be scared.

So, listen and please just close your eyes then count one to ten

Once a sleep All your dreams will be on full display

When you wake, it will be a great day

Hear what mommy say

Friends are not away

So, listen and please just close your eyes then count one to ten

Once a sleep All your dreams will be on full display

When you wake, it will be a great day

Hear what mommy say

Friends are not away

Have some fun and play
