

MY SWAN SONG

Do you believe in being faithful?

Or are you just evil?

Think I won't know by being careful

The sun has set on you

Hope you never see the light in me

In Cold blood, reject my pleas

Just a Fool brought down to his knees

Time will never heal this mess

So, I will never address

This sadness you brought in me

No amount of Fortune

Can erase all your distortions

The lies at your convenience

To show me who you really are

All those damn trips you took to Brooklyn

Many Lies that you were at Lakeshore

that you were the same as before

You are ugly to the core

Who taught you the difference of what's right and wrong?

Consider this to be my Swan Song

How many more lies looking right into my eyes?

Thirty years of togetherness
Washed away in weeks
How can you be so weak?
But you're just an opportunist
That believes you can get away
That I will be there for you always
But that will never be the case

Time will never heal this mess
So, I will never address
This sadness you brought in me
No amount of Fortune
Can erase all your distortions
The lies at your convenience
To show me who you really are

All those damn trips you took to Brooklyn
Many Lies that you were at Lakeshore
that you were the same as before
You are ugly to the core

Who taught you the difference of what's right and wrong?
Consider this to be my Swan Song
How many more lies looking right into my eyes?

All those damn trips you took to Brooklyn

Many Lies that you were at Lakeshore

that you were the same as before

You are ugly to the core

Who taught you the difference of what's right and wrong?

Consider this to be my Swan Song

How many more lies looking right into my eyes?
