

Alive

Intro Verse

Alone in this dark room.

Dreaming of a new me.

Solving riddles

in my sleep

What's a life with no ghost.

What makes that perfect soul.

Taking my tears to the sea

In a world we can all dream of being free

Pre-Chorus

No drama a framed picture in a perfect scene

Happiness we all believe is our Destiny

Unlocking all our doors. We have that key

All the hate to hurt will be just empty pleas

Selfishness will end for all the world to see

Then reality hits me

Chorus

There's always a lie and someone will cry
Hardest thing in life is saying goodbye
No matter how we try
many times, is just the same crime
since the history of time
More, you think. The more you say Why
Choosing a side. There's always our pride
Hardest thing in life is saying goodbye
Is never about what we can afford and what we can buy
Hoping all our tears subside
What makes us feel alive?

2nd Verse

May I share these words with you.
these thoughts came in my dreams.
About what we truly need.
To live a life with one goal
Be that beautiful soul.
In my sleep, dream of a new me
Then you came and you just smile and set me free

Pre-Chorus

No drama, a framed picture in a perfect scene

Happiness, all believe is our Destiny

Unlocking all our doors. We have that key

All the hate to hurt will be just empty pleas

Selfishness will end for all the world to see

Then reality hits me

Chorus

There's always a cry when someone just die

Hardest thing in life is saying goodbye

No matter how we try

many times, is just the same crime

since the history of time

More, you think. The more you say Why

Choosing a side. There's always our pride

Hardest thing in life is saying goodbye

Is always about how much we can care and how much we try.

Hoping all our tears subside

What makes us feel alive?
